Gimme a Call
by Sarah Mlynowski

Devi dropped her cell phone in the mall fountain and now it only calls one number . . . hers--at age fourteen, three years ago.

Happyface
Stephen Emond

Happyface is the diary of an shy, artistically talented sophomore who trying out an "everything goes" personality at his new

Possessing Jessie
Nancy Springer

Jason's sudden death leaves his mother and teenaged sister Jessie numb with grief. That is, until the morning Jessie cuts her Once Devi gets over the shock and convinces her younger self that she isn't some wacko-she realizes that she's been given an awesome gift. She can tell herself all the right things to do . . . because she's already done all the wrong ones! Who better to take advice from than your future self?

My Invisible Boyfriend
Susie Day

Heidi has found the solution to her popularity problems - a fake boyfriend. She's even made him an internet profile that makes him look like a motorcycle-riding, poetry reading bad boy. swoon Heidi's friends are so impressed they start befriending Heidi's fake boyfriend by email. . . and as if that weren't bad enough, a delicious and possibly single person called "A Real Boy" emails Heidi to say he knows the truth...

Rock 'n' Roll Soldier
Dean Ellis Kohler

Dean Kohler is about to make it big-he's finally scored a national record deal! But his dreams are abruptly put on hold by the arrival of his draft notice. Now he's in Qui Nhon, Vietnam, serving as a military policeman. He keeps telling himself he's a musician, not a killer, and that he's lucky he's not fighting on the front lines. When Captain orders him to form a rock band, it's up to Dean to find instruments and players, pronto. (a true story)
